Money back if not satisfactory.

Mr. Joseph Inakeep of Russellville, O., was a victim to the extent of $20 by the light fingered gentry Wednesday. He got on train No. 6 at Ripley, and between that point and this city was relieved of his wealth. It was no trouble for him to replenish his purse in this city, however, as Colonel R. B. Lovel and M. C. Russell Co. buy largely of his products, being the proprietor of a large canning factory in the Ohio town.

FOUL MURDER.

Former Maysville Colored Man Killed His Wife at Oberlin, O.

John Bennett, who murdered his wife yesterday at Oberlin, O., was born at Washington this county about 25 years ago. His wife, Florence Jackson, was born at Mayfield and is about 24 years old.

Both are well known in this city, Florence, the murdered wife, having been a servant for years for Mrs. D. M. Runyon of Sutton street, and stood well with both white and colored.

Owing to his cruel treatment she was compelled to leave him.

He was here during the Maysville Colored Fair on the hunt of her whereabouts.

At that time she had left Covington and gone to Oberlin where he finally found and murdered her.

The murder was a most diabolical one. With a lump of coal he knocked her senseless and then forced carbolic acid down her throat.

He was arrested and taken to Cleveland, O., to save his worthless neck from an enraged populace, who would have disposed of him in short order had not the officers of the law protected him.

ENTERPRISING CABMAN.

Mr. Harry L. Walsh Had Unusual Experience on Circus Day.

Circus day Mr. Harry Walsh hired a hack for the afternoon for the accommodation of his family in taking them to and from the circus.

After arriving at the grounds he left the vehicle in charge of a boy and wended his way into the show.

He had not been gone long before a burly darkey came along and bade the boy get down off the box, which he immediately mounted and started in business on stolen capital, as it were.

He did a thriving business for a time in hauling passengers, but his greediness was his own downfall. Had he been content with a reasonable sum and quit at the proper time all would have been well, but alas for the poor darkey, he tarried too long at the well and the golden pitcher was broken.

Just as the rain was about to fall Mr. Walsh appeared and much to his surprise his hack was "non est inventus," or somewhere else.

While thus bewildered as to what become of it and what to do to protect his family from the rain-storm fast approaching, up drove the embryo hackman, who had been to town with a load of passengers.

For a while the atmosphere—notwithstanding the lowering elements—was in a manner blue from the benediction Mr. Walsh gave the darkey. After making him disgorge all his ill-gotten gains and giving him several raps with a cane he held in his hand, he let him go, being mollified with the satisfaction of getting the hack in time to save his family from the storm then upon them.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son.

Among the unfortunates on Circus Day was Colonel George S. Rosser of The Bulletin, who was relieved of a $60 diamond stud by a "genial old gentleman" who he thinks boarded a street-car with him at the Convent Switch and "entertained" him on the way to the canvas city.

All kinds of School Supplies are sold at Ray's Postoffice Drugstore.

Rev. J. S. Young of this city has been selected by officers of the M. E. City Missionary Society as the new Pastor of McMicken Avenue M. E. Church, Cincinnati.

LIZZIE EVANS IN "AT COZY CORNERS."

"At Cozy Corners," the play in which sparkling Lizzie Evans and her company will be seen at the Opera-house Saturday, matinee and night, takes its name from a quaint New England village. The story centers around the little Congregational Church of the town, its young Pastor and his flock. The stage pictures are novel settings for a play and lend fascinating surroundings to the plot. A flavor of novelty is introduced into these scenes by means of a quartet of young boy singers, a troop of gamboling school children and a trio of dancers, the Hennings. Lizzie Evans should be greeted by a large audience. Reserved seats are on sale at Ray's Drugstore.

The Salve That Heals

Without leaving a scar is DeWitt's. The name Witch Hazel is applied to many salves, but DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only Witch Hazel Salve made that contains the pure unadulterated Witch Hazel. If any other Witch Hazel Salve is offered you it is a counterfeit. E. C. DeWitt invented Witch Hazel Salve, and DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, netter, or blind, bleeding itching and protruding piles. Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, E. J. D. HECHINGER & CO
When Buying a
Suit or Overcoat

For yourself or boy you naturally want the best for the least money. The best goods are always the cheapest, and as we buy and carry in stock more clothing than all the other stores in Maysville combined, our large purchases give us advantages that enable us to give you the best of merchandise at no bigger cost than you would probably pay for lower graded clothes elsewhere. A word about the "Fits" we give you: Perfect fitting garments are desired by everyone, whether he pays $10 or $25 for a Suit or Overcoat. Now, "there" is a thing we are more particular about than the majority of our customers. We just WON'T let a garment go out of our house unless we are pleased. See them. We want you to take a glance at the Stein-Bloch Cravenette Coat specially made for us. People who know say it's the handsomest garment they ever looked at. This coat is used both for Overcoat and Raincoat. If you are going to hunt this season buy a pair of our Milford High Top Shoes. They are strictly (guaranteed) water proof. They sell everywhere for $6; we sell ours for $5.

THE HOME STORE. D. HECHINGER & CO.

If the Best Shoe Stock
in Maysville

Will prove any inducement for you to buy here, then we are assured of a fine trade this fall and winter. You won't find such goods as we offer in every stock in town. Full line of Fottrell, Barker & Brown's solid leather Brogans, acknowledged to be the most serviceable work shoe made. Good, heavy Boots and first class RUBBERS.

BARKLEY'S!

THE BEE HIVE!

The Question

Now is, Who Can Help You Most With Your Fall Shopping?

The answer is partly told in this advertisement, but fully told by a visit to the store. Today's talk will be on ready-made goods, and this department we are especially proud of, for we believe that there are few stores that show and sell the amount of ready-made goods that we do. (Of course we mean towns the size of Maysville.)

LADIES' SUITS.

We are told daily that the best line of Suits in town is here, and at the rate we are selling them there is no doubt of it. Suits from $10 up, but we are selling more from $15 to $35.

CLOAKS.

From the one-day-old to the any age, and while the weather is warm of course you don't feel like buying, but did you know that the best choice is the early one. Almost a thousand garments to select from, and where in Northern Kentucky can you get such a selection? Come and look, even if you are not ready.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

We fit up most of the brides from the five counties around us. Who is more particular than a bride? The best of undergarments are had here and fair prices rule.

SHIRTWAISTS.

In this line even our competitors admit we are supreme. "The Royal," the Queen of the land; the best stores in every town carry it. Prices $1.49 and up.

WRAPPERS and DRESSING SACKS.

A little department by itself, but hardly an hour passes in the day that some lady isn't made happy by the provision we have made for her home comfort. 79c up, and all cut full.

HATS.

Trimmed and ready-to-wear. For the very highest price hats you must go to the millinery store—we are only after the lady that cares to save a few dollars on a hat. $10 Hats for $5, and we please you at the start—no coming back to see if it fits.

THE man who wants anything else than an absolutely honest election and a fair count is a bad citizen.

THE date has not been set for laying the corner-stone of Maysville's Public Building—to be erected somewhere this side of the Fairgrounds.

THE local Republicans have done quite well in the registration of voters. Now let them see that every voter votes, and that the votes are counted as they are voted.

UNCLE SAM could put up a good Public Building with the money it takes to coach 10,256 soldiers in the art of war at the West Point maneuver grounds. Before the shouting and the tumult has died, the Krags silenced and the last soldier boy is back at home telling about the long "hikes," there will be bills amounting to not less than $285,000 to foot. Not more than $30,000 of this would be needed to maintain the 2,700 regulars for three weeks at their posts.

THE Republicans bear the burden of taxation equally with the Democrats, and they have an equal right to have their votes counted in registering their choice of officials.

GOV. BRADLEY'S CALL TO DUTY.

Chairman John C. Wood of the Republican Speakers' Bureau has received the following letter from former Governor Bradley:
Louisville, Ky., October 22, 1903.
Hon. John C. Wood, Chairman Speakers' Bureau—Sir: Had my health justified I would have spoken for the Republican party before this, and shall certainly speak as soon as able. The best interest of the state requires the election of the Republican ticket, and I trust that no man will be found who is not willing to do his duty.
I hope that no effort will be spared to register the vote in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth, as this is the foundation of success, and in the absence of a full and proper registration we cannot hope to win. Your friend,
W. O. BRADLEY.

Political Pickings

BLACKBURN'S BELLOWINGS.

Louisville Evening Post.

"I charge here and now," cries the valiant Blackburn, "that Colonel Belknap was first compelled to promise, and did promise, the friends of Taylor, Finley, Howard and Powers that he would pardon those convicted assassins of your Governor Goebel." Senator Goebel was never Governor. Taylor and Finley have never been convicted of assassinating anybody. Colonel Belknap never made such a promise. The blatant orator who indulges in this talk lost his soul four years ago when he bet it against a counterfeit nickel that if the Republicans were victorious the Goebel Law, being such a good robbing device, would not be repealed.

It is said the brothers and sisters of the late Thornton Norris of near Germantown will bring suit to break his will. Mr. Norris bequeathed all of his estate, valued at probably $60,000 to $75,000, to his wife, a young woman who he married several years ago, and had previously deeded her a farm of 335 acres near Germantown.

Mr. James B. Heathman, whose home is at Lexington, now employed by E. N. Forsythe of this city as teamster, was kicked this morning by a horse while engaged in cleaning him. He was struck in the side and on the leg, the one in the side causing a rupture, besides being pressed against the side of the stall by the horse. He is painfully and seriously hurt. Dr. A. G. Browning is attending the injured man.

ONE GREAT BREATHITT

Will Be the State of Kentucky if Beckham Is Re-Elected.
(Louisville Herald.)

There passed through Louisville on Tuesday evening J. L. Napier, of Clayhole, Breathitt county, with his wife and child on their way to Oklahoma, fugitives from the terrorism still prevalent in Breathitt. That assassination has not been eradicated from that ill-fated district by the Beckhamistic pretense of enforcing the law is very clear from Napier's enforced flight, because he had fallen under the ban of the rule of blood and terror.

We take his statements from the morning Democratic organ. On Tuesday night last Napier said to a representative of that paper:

"Last Wednesday I was in the store sorting mail, when a man came into the store and lounged around there for half an hour. I was busy opening the mail, and when I came to the registered letters he drew a 45 Colt and told me to hand over that mail. As he said that he fired and ran. The bullet did not come close to me, but it was aimed at me. There were a lot of people in the store at the time, and they all ran as soon as they saw the big gun."

This occurred at Clayhole, ten miles from Jackson, where Napier was postmaster and storekeeper. The next day he went to Jackson and asked for a warrant. "I went," he says, "before Judge Hargis and swore to an affidavit, but he did not issue the warrant."

Napier significantly adds: "There is no law in Breathitt. Warrants cannot be secured unless the man who wants the warrant is on the right side. There are seven magistrates in the county, and six of them do the bidding of one of the leaders. I do not know the seventh, as he lives in the far end of the county, so I don't know how he stands. Jackson is quiet until the man they want gets there, then there is the crack of a rifle, and he is dead. Jackson is quieter than the rest of the county, but it is all under one man's thumb. He boasts that he is ruler in Breathitt county."

The plain truth is that the Breathitt leaders understand Beckham. Governor Beckham has frequently, for reasons of political gain and of political reward, issued pardons. He has done so at the instance of the leaders. He will, if elected, do it again. Breathitt will, by a large majority, vote for Beckham. He must, according to politics and to Beckham precedents, in plenty return political favors with prerogative favors. There can be no return of security to Breathitt so long as Beckham is governor of Kentucky. His re-election in November would precipitate outbreaks of lawlessness. The parole and pardon brokers would turn loose on the state everywhere the very class of men that has made it impossible for any but those willing to accept tyranny to live in Breathitt.

Shall Kentucky become one great Breathitt?

PERMANENTLY LOST.

Col. Breckinridge Speaks of Democrats Who Have Left That Party.

When such men as Henry Stone, Temple Bodley, Morton Joyce and Alfred Selligman deliberately leave the party of their convictions, of their young manhood, of their dearest associates, of their beloved relatives, it is, indeed, well for the leaders of that party to pause and consider; to anxiously try to ascertain the cause and, if possible, remedy the evils complained of. These are not office-seekers; they are making sacrifices in consenting to make this race; they are not political mendicants — paupers seeking alms in the form of office and its emoluments. Is there no policy honorable alike to all parties on which these men and men like unto them and Democrats who adhere to the regular organization can agree? Must such men be permanently lost to the national Democratic party and be permanently hostile to the state Democratic party? These are not carpet-baggers; these are not scalawags; they are Kentuckians of Kentuckians, "to the manner born" — heirs of the noblest Kentucky traditions and bravest Kentucky deeds, and loving Kentucky with full hearts, they have served her faithfully and lovingly. — Lexington Herald.

There are some remarkable exhibitions of family division in Democratic circles. W. C. McChord is district attorney for a railroad, John McChord is a local attorney and Dr. McChord is surgeon for one of those "awful octopuses," while Charley McChord, the wise-eyed and rubber-heeled statesman from Springfield, just naturally has no use for a railroad, except to ride on. He stands like a bouncing lion in the pathway of any old octopus that attempts to encroach upon the preserves of the great common people, even if he has to go all the way to New York to head it off.

Notwithstanding all the criticism heaped upon the inside and outside hairless head of the Hon. Holler James, it must be admitted that he is a man of parts.

NO CONSTITUTIONAL SECOND TERM.

The whole spirit of the constitution of the state of Kentucky is a spirit of prohibition of a second term for public office. It is the old spirit, the old Democratic demand for rotation in office, that has controlled the formation of the present constitution of the state of Kentucky, this spirit also largely controlling the constitution of 1849. Section 93 of the present constitution of the state of Kentucky reads as follows:

"The Treasurer, Auditor of Public Accounts, Secretary of State, Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, Attorney General, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Register of the Land Office, shall be ineligible to re-election for the succeeding four years after the expiration of the term for which they shall have been elected."

This is a very sweeping prohibition, and the principle of it is to be noted in other sections of the constitution. For instance, section 71 refers to the governor, and declares:

"He shall be ineligible for the succeeding four years after the expiration of the term for which he shall have been elected."

Section 82 provides for a lieutenant governor who shall possess the same qualifications as the governor, and contains this clause:

"He shall be ineligible to the office of lieutenant governor for the succeeding four years after the expiration of the term for which he shall have been elected."

It is provided in section 160, relating to municipal officers, that "No mayor or chief executive or fiscal officer of any city of the first or second class, after the expiration of the term of office to which he has been elected under this constitution, shall be eligible for the succeeding term."

We have quoted these sections of the constitution in order to recall to the people of Kentucky the spirit of that instrument. The people sought to destroy the possibility of the erection within the state of an officeholding oligarchy, of an officeholders' trust, such as has been established at Frankfort, and such as has been established in the city of Louisville. This trust is built up by the patronage of public office. Power once secured is never surrendered without a protest. The people recognized the evils that inevitably follow the attempt of ambitious men to perpetuate themselves in office, and they wrote this prohibition in the constitution as broad as possible.

And yet the politicians of the state, directing and controlling the Democratic organization, defy the constitution, override its prohibitions, evade the letter where they can not openly violate it, and, in spite of the constitution, use the patronage of one term of office to secure another term of office.

It is contended in behalf of the governor that, strictly interpreted, the prohibition does not apply to an officer serving out the unexpired term of his predecessor. This, we believe, is the strict interpretation of the letter of the constitution, but in the case of Governor Beckham it is to be considered that he has served nearly four years. He was given the office of lieutenant governor by proceedings revolutionary in their character and revolutionary in their effect. Defeated by the people, the Democratic caucus made him lieutenant governor. When Mr. Goebel was assassinated he at once succeeded to Mr. Goebel and became governor. In November, 1900, he was nominated by the Democratic party in spite of the Courier-Journal's "demand for a man" which was intended to set aside Mr. Beckham — and, under the forms of law, he was elected to serve out the term of three years.

Manifestly, the spirit of the constitution is just as much violated when Mr. Beckham is a candidate for governor as it would have been violated had Governor Bradley been nominated by the Republicans in 1899.

It is hardly worth while to argue this proposition. It is not a question of the strict interpretation of the forms of the constitution. It is a question merely of the purpose of the constitution, and it is violated, not only in the nomination of Mr. Beckham, but in nominating Mr. McChesney, now superintendent of public instruction, for secretary of state; in nominating Mr. Haager, now secretary of state, for auditor. Mr. Vreeland, who is assistant in the office of the commissioner of agriculture, becomes the party candidate for commissioner of agriculture to succeed Mr. Nail.

Of course if the people of Kentucky are satisfied with this arrangement, they will vote for these candidates. A vote for these candidates is a vote temporarily to suspend the prohibitions of the constitution. It is a vote to sustain the belief that the officeholding trust at Frankfort is made up of men of such superior attainments, such breadth of mind, such statesmanship, that the state can not afford to do without their services. — Louisville Post.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies, but got no benefit from them. MILLIONAIRE'S POOR STOMACH.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. A Well-Dressed Man!

Makes you stop and consider the very important point, "Do I look like him, or am I shabby?" I wonder what it costs him to look like that? NOW LISTEN: If he lacks good judgment it costs him a lot of money. If he places himself in our hands it doesn't. We endeavor to place every man that deals with us under obligations to us—and then he starts out to cancel that obligation by bringing in a friend, who becomes a customer, and who in turn starts out to bring his friends—and so on.

How do we place a customer under obligations to us? We give him all that his money calls for and more than he expects, consider his whims and feelings and pocket-book. He's pleased, and he can't help telling his friends. Thus the good work goes on.

The last fleet of coal ever held at Cincinnati is at Mill Creek coal harbor. Over 100 loaded boats, and 30 barges are there ready to go South on the first big rise.

An effort is said to be on to settle the claims against the towboat W. H. Flint and prevent the sale of the boat at Pittsburgh by the United States Marshal, Stephan P. Stone.

All steamboat Mates must renew their licenses before November 1st. Many of them carry five-year licenses, which expire this month, and they must receive new certificates.

According to the report of United States Inspector Lloyd, from May 24 until August, 121,753 people were carried out of Cincinnati, while the Coney Island boats handled 397,974 people.

The little steamboat San Salvador was built at the yards of C. P. Willard & Co., Michigan, and taken down to New Orleans via Chicago canal and Illinois and Mississippi rivers. She passed down October 3d, with parting salutes from various harbor crafts, having on board Captain John Chapman, with a crew of ten men, a her long voyage of 3,400 miles to Maranh, Brazil.

When the big coal fleets come South this fall they will apparently be in charge of new boats, but this is not the case, for it is only the result of repair work and extensive painting which has been going on all summer on all the big boats of the combine. Never before has there been so much work done, or have the boats been better prepared to handle the immense amount of coal which will go South this fall.

The exact location of the Cullom's Riffle Dam in the Ohio river will be at the Gaff farm, near Fernbank. The strip includes some 28 acres, with a good river front. Preliminary plans for the construction of the Dam have already been considered by Government engineers, and it is estimated that $3,000,000 will be spent on the Dam. The structure, when completed, will give a nine-foot stage of water for a distance of 25 miles up the Ohio river the year round, making navigation possible throughout the period of low-water stages.

If the indications promising high water in the Ohio river hold good, 60,000 tons of steel rails will start from Bessemer by river in a few days on the way to the Gulf. The shipment is now loading on seventy barges. Much of this steel is for relaying track on the Southern Pacific Railroad. Some is bound for Mexico and a portion is shipped on European orders for foreign countries. The fleet will go to New Orleans, where transshipments will be made. On the same stage of water another flotilla carrying 175,000 tons of iron cotton ties will go to New Orleans, this material being prepared for the Gulf demand for next season's cotton crop.

Dieting Injures Digestion.

To cure Dyspepsia or indigestion it is no longer necessary to live on milk and toast. Starvation produces such weakness that the whole system becomes an easy prey to disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that one cares to eat, and is a never failing cure for indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.
